From Screening to Treatment: The Clinician's Role in Eliminating Hepatitis C in New York State

These half-day programs will focus on hepatitis C (HCV) epidemiology on a national, state, and local level and the NYS guideline for HCV screening, diagnosis, and treatment selection. Through didactic sessions and case-based discussions, we'll explore treatment selection and discuss challenges associated with HCV care and treatment. This program is intended for providers new to HCV. Each program is from 8:00am-12:00pm

Rochester: Tuesday, October 3: <http://bit.ly/HCVRochester>

Syracuse: Thursday, October 12: <http://bit.ly/HCVSyracuse>

Buffalo: Thursday, October 26: <http://bit.ly/HCVBuffalo>

New York City: Friday, December 8: <http://bit.ly/HCVNewYorkCity>

These programs are restricted to New York State medical providers including physicians, physician assistants, nurses, nurse practitioners, certified nurse midwives, dentists, and pharmacists.
