

Fourth District Report
January 2018

The Schenectady County Medical Society had a meeting in December at Apertivo Bistro . Guest speaker was Jim Strosberg, M.D. retired rheumatologist. Jim is involved with the Schenectady Historical Society. He gave a presentation on the medical community in Schenectady during World War I. It was very interesting and well received.

Dr. Strosberg was also delighted to receive a book donated by Leah McCormack, M.D. which she found in her father's attic on the history of Schenectady, past and present. The book was written in 1914. Apparently the Historical Society did not have it and it will now go into their collection.

The Fourth District will have its annual retreat at the Mirror Lake Inn in Lake Placid, New York, on the weekend of January 26-28. The Third District will also be involved. Dr. William Latreille is arranging some CME presentations for Friday the 26. This historically has been a great event and anyone from the council is invited.
