

Nassau County Medical Society

Counselor's Report – April 15, 2021

Paul Pipia, MD, Councilor

1. The Nassau County Medical Society for its 100 Year Celebration will be receiving a Citation from the Governor. Also, the milestone will be celebrated on Channel 12, Long Island News and Newsday.
2. The Nassau County Medical Society/The Nassau Academy of Medicine presented two webinars.
 - a. Demystifying MS: Understanding the Facts About Multiple Sclerosis on March 24, 2021
 - b. Women on the Frontlines: Stronger Together on March 31, 2021
3. The Nassau County Medical Society/The Nassau Academy of Medicine is hosting two webinars in April:
 - a. Alcoholism as a Disease: Addiction Research and Recovery on April 15, 2021.
 - b. Reading the Fine Print of Health Literacy on April 28, 2021.
4. The Nassau County Medical Society Elections will be happening virtually again this year and the results will be announced at our Membership Meeting on May 20, 2021.
5. Advocacy Day 2020. The day was a great success with the largest participation we have ever had. Our legislator meetings went extremely well and follow up appointments have happened since then. The Board met and considered the option to have virtual legislative meetings more often since it appears to allow for larger participation.
6. The Nassau County Medical Society participated in an event sponsored by NYSOMS and MLMIC on the “Cures Act” on April 1, 2021 @ 6pm.
7. For our Member of the Month segment for April we highlighted Resident, Dr. Lillian Huang.
8. With respect to The Nassau County Medical Society and The Nassau Academy of Medicine social media presence has grown exponentially on all platforms.
